Self Managed Super Fund (SMSF)

A self-managed superannuation fund (SMSF) allows Trustees to choose the assets to suit their risk profile and investment strategy. Superannuation protects your wealth and assets until the day you retire and a SMSF allows you to choose how you manage for your retirement saving.

Why Precious Metals

In today's complex financial landscape, diversifying your Self-Managed Super Fund (SMSF) is crucial to preserving your wealth. Adding precious metals, such as gold and silver, to your investment portfolio offers several unique benefits that traditional assets may not provide.

Hedge Against Inflation:

Precious metals have historically maintained their value over time, even as inflation erodes the purchasing power of paper currencies. By including assets like gold in your portfolio, you can protect your wealth from the long-term effects of inflation.

Portfolio Diversification:

Precious metals provide a low correlation to other asset classes, such as stocks and bonds. This means that when traditional markets experience volatility, the value of your precious metals holdings may remain stable or even increase, providing a balance within your portfolio.

Store of Value:

Unlike paper assets, precious metals are tangible and have intrinsic value. They are universally recognized and can be easily liquidated, providing a reliable store of value that can safeguard your wealth in times of economic uncertainty.

Global Demand:

The ongoing global demand for precious metals, driven by both industrial use and investment, supports their long-term value. As a finite resource, they are likely to remain valuable assets in any diversified investment strategy.

Including precious metals in your SMSF is not just about wealth accumulation; it's about wealth preservation. By balancing your portfolio with assets that have stood the test of time, you can protect your financial future and ensure a more stable retirement.

A flexible option and cost effective way to buy, store and trade.

Pool Allocated Precious Metals

Pool allocated is a flexible option when choosing to invest in gold, allowing you to trade in a cost-effective way. Rather than buying a specific item, you can invest in the pool of products with 100% backing by physical metal which is fully insured for replacement value.

If you buy a 'share' in the pool of gold, silver or platinum it is managed and stored by Gold Bullion Australia Treasury Reserve (GABTR) on your behalf in our secure, custom built vaulting facility.

Why Pool Allocated?

The metal is stored in a high security, custom-built vaulting facility.

Our customers have access to online Metal Account Statements with up to date reporting of the asset valuation, transactions and account details.

AUCTUS

METAL PORTFOLIOS

Managed Portfolios

Customers who wish to actively grow and generate a return from their physical precious metal holdings while maintaining absolute control and ownership of their investment should consider Auctus Metal Portfolios. We believe we have solved that age-old problem of generating a positive return on physical metals – Gold, Silver, Platinum, Palladium, and Rhodium (akin to earning a dividend from shares) – and this is the guiding principle behind the creation of Auctus Metal Portfolios.

Auctus Metal Portfolios

Auctus Metal Portfolios has developed a physical precious metal investment management system that balances customers' physical precious metal ownership between Gold, Silver, Platinum, Palladium, and Rhodium.

Portfolio adjustments occur throughout the year to try to maximise net returns for clients. Our returns are based on zero exposure to collateralisation, paper trading, or any leverage. Our customers securely hold physical precious metals in their own tax-free, wholly segregated, and Lloyd's of London-insured vaults at The Singapore Freeport. They can also opt for our Australian storage options depending on their needs. Customers have full ownership and control of their precious metals at all times.

Clients' portfolios are monitored on a live basis by Auctus Metal Portfolios according to our proprietary portfolio models. This cutting-edge approach (essentially applying Modern Portfolio Theory to bullion) is coupled with our state-of-the-art vaulting and logistics systems and is designed to deliver long-term returns to our clients from their precious metal holdings. Auctus Metal Portfolios have historically far outperformed the benchmark for Gold and a broad spectrum of asset classes.

Customer portfolios typically change their mix between metals 2-3 times a year. Our signals are based on retrospective back-testing of algorithms over the last 50 years. Our algorithms target pricing anomalies among the 5 precious metals - Gold, Silver, Platinum, Palladium, and Rhodium - whose pricing dynamics are constantly monitored. The algorithms are reviewed daily. Each customer's precious metals portfolio is unique in its weightings or makeup, depending on the specific entry date and choice of Provectus Model 1 (Balanced Portfolio) or Model 2 (High Growth).

Provectus Model 1

- Conservative Approach: Provectus Model 1 prioritises risk-averse investing, emphasising liquidity and stability.
- Superior Returns: Despite its conservative nature, Model 1 historically outperforms traditional static precious metal holdings.
- Research and Education: Customers receive extensive research on precious metal markets, macroeconomics, and supply-demand dynamics to make informed decisions.

Provectus Model 2

- Aggressive Approach: Auctus Provectus Model 2 caters to customers seeking growth-driven investing in precious metals.
- Opportunity Identification: Designed to identify market dislocations and capitalize on opportunities for outperformance.
- Liquidity Consideration: While liquidity is important, the model may prioritise less liquid metals for higher returns.
- Higher Returns: Despite increased risk, the High Growth Portfolio aims to deliver superior returns to our customers.
- Research and Education: Industry-leading research on precious metal markets, educating customers on expected price movements and underlying fundamentals.
